

Age Limits Transition Period

Staff, leaders and participants must all be the proper age for each programme. The way that we calculate the proper age for participants is changing.

What this means:

Up to and including 2019, the following age rules will continue to apply:

Participants must be the age specified by the programme and the invitation. Participants must be the proper age in the general programme period, in the year in which the programme is hosted.

From 2020 onwards, new age rules will apply:

Participants must turn the age specified by the programme and the invitation, during the year in which the programme starts.

Transition period (2020 only):

To make sure that no participants will miss the opportunity to participate because of this rule change, there will be a transition period.

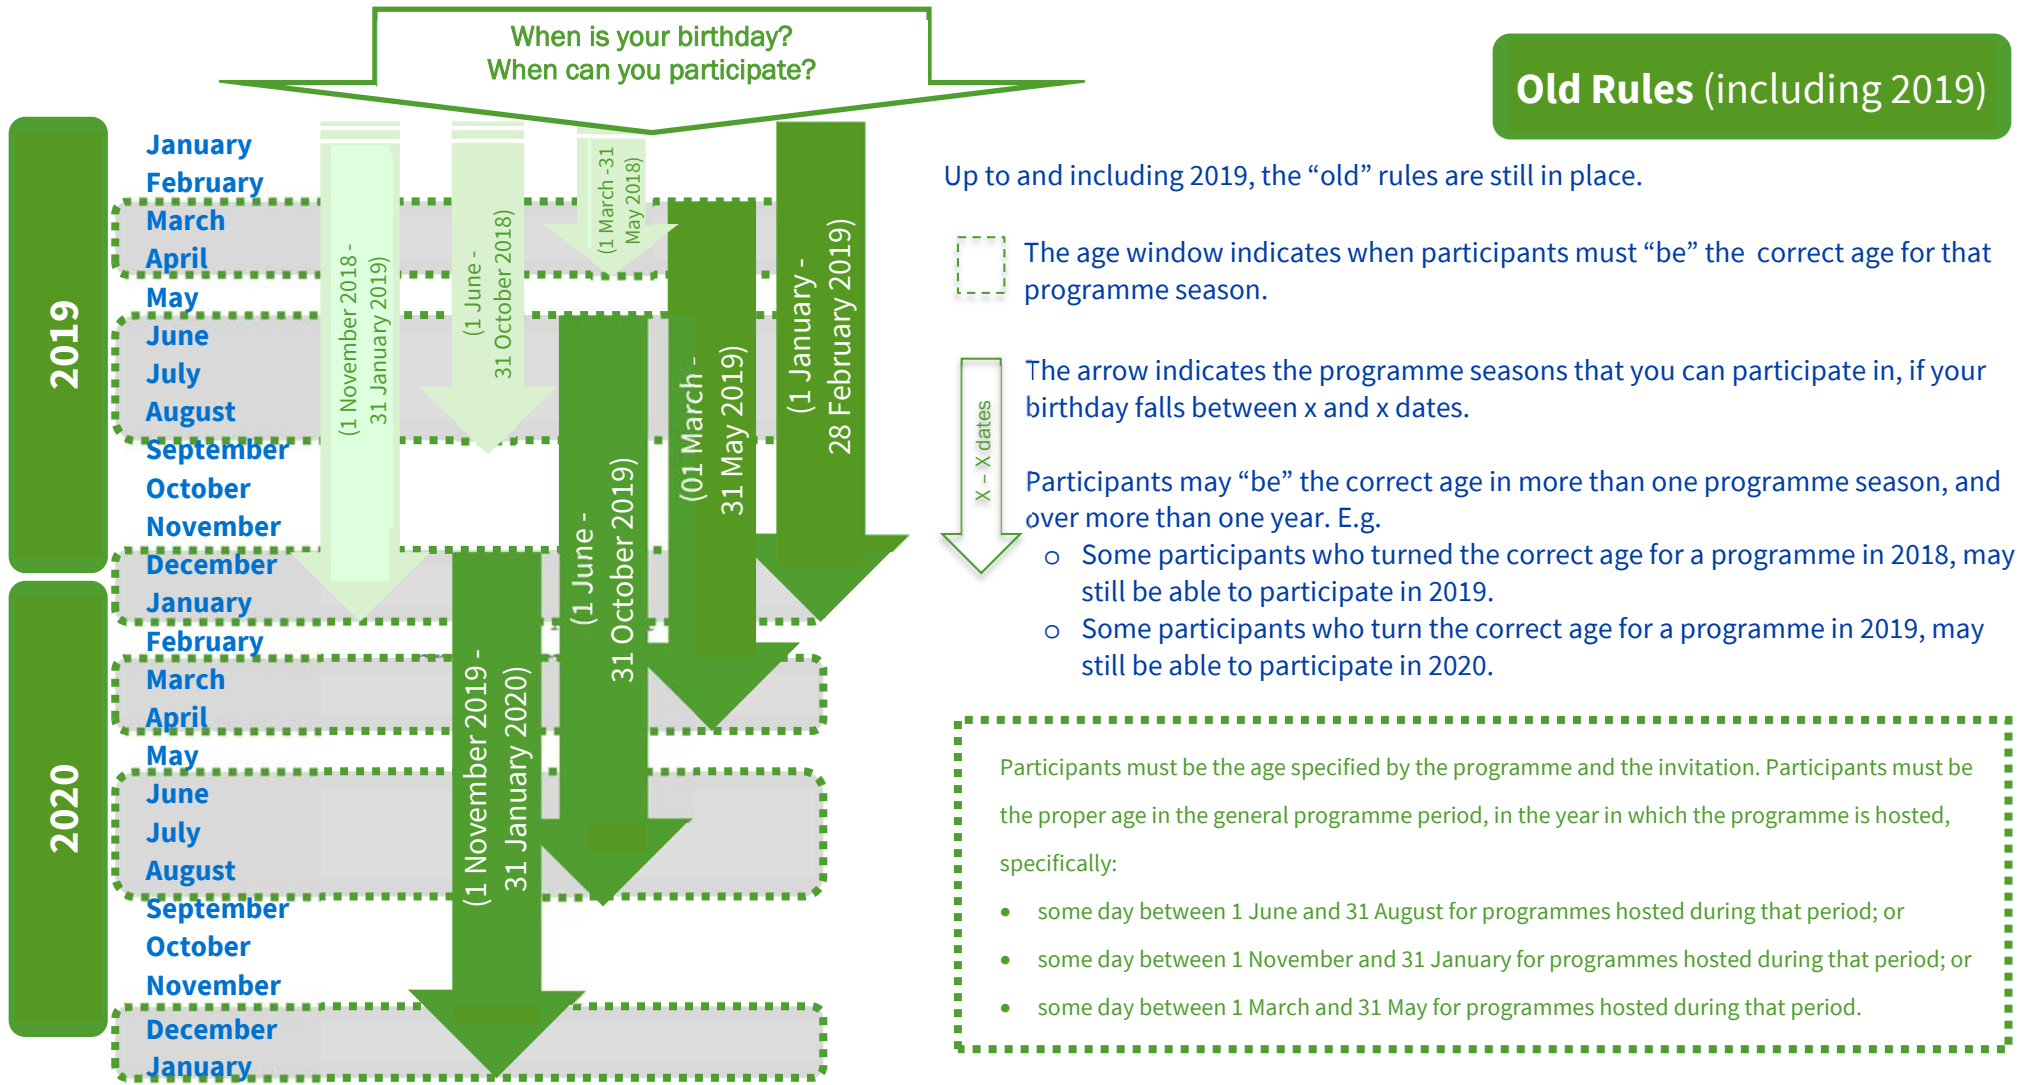

During 2020, there will be an overlap of the old (including 2019) and new (2020 onwards) rules. If a participant turns the correct age for a programme season in 2019, they will qualify under the current rules. This means they may still be able to participate in some 2020 programmes. Participants that turn the correct age in 2020 will qualify under the new rules.

There are no changes for staff, leaders and JCs:

Staff must be the proper age on the first day of the programme.

Leaders, including JCs, must be the proper age on the day of departure for the programme.

More information about this change can be found on cisv.org/resources

New Rules (2020 onwards)

From 2020 onwards, the “new” rules will apply.

 The age window indicates when participants must “turn” the correct age for programmes starting in that year.

 The arrow indicates the programme seasons that you can participate in, if your birthday falls between x and x dates.

Participants may “turn” the correct age for only the programme seasons in that programme year. E.g.

- Participants who turned the correct age for a programme in 2020, can only participate in that programme in 2020.

Participants must turn the age specified by the programme and the invitation, during the year in which the programme is hosted, specifically:

- some day between 1 January and 31 December, for programmes starting during that year.
